

Welcome to the BioCelerate newsletter, where we share updates on our initiatives and upcoming events.

Latest Updates

BioCelerate-FDA Collaboration

Last month, BioCelerate announced a collaboration with the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) to launch a joint working group that will explore methods to enable more effective analysis of nonclinical studies across the research community. The initial focus for this working group is the SEND Implementation for Cross-Study Analysis Initiative, which is evaluating barriers and opportunities for using SEND data sets for cross study comparisons. Read the press release for more details!

Upcoming Events

CRO Virtual Roundtable

If you're a member of a contract research organization (CRO), please join the BioCelerate team for our Virtual Roundtable on August 22 from 8-10AM EDT! During this collaborative forum, we will review v0.2 of the Nonclinical Study Protocol Template for Repeat-Dose Toxicology Studies and discuss your feedback on the formatting and content of the draft template. Register here.

American College of Toxicology Conference (ACT)

Planning to attend ACT from November 17-20 in Phoenix, Arizona? We encourage you to visit our poster presentation on the Common Template for Nonclinical Studies Initiative. Stay tuned for further updates on our upcoming ACT sessions and don't forget to secure your spot for this can't miss event.

Want to Learn More about BioCelerate?

Newsletter subscribers will be notified with updates about new materials and events. In the meantime, visit our website and keep up with us on our LinkedIn and Twitter channels. You can also contact us at info@biocelerate.org.

